

Founders Day Starts Sunday; Paty To Speak

A convocation Monday morning highlights the fourth annual Founders Day program scheduled for Sunday and Monday. Other activities include a broadcast over Radio Station WHAS Saturday morning, and a Sunday Afternoon Musicale followed by a reception and tea.

Dr. Raymond R. Paty, chancellor of the University System of Georgia, will be the convocation speaker. His subject will be "Higher Education Takes Root." President H. L. Donovan will preside at the convocation.

Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president of the University, who is in charge of the program said Feb. 22 is usually celebrated as Founders Day, but that date falls on Sunday, making the two-day program advisable.

Dr. Chamberlain said classes would not be dismissed because of the convocation, but professors may if they wish excuse students from classes to attend the event.

UK Created 1865
On Feb. 22, 1865, the Kentucky General Assembly accepted the provisions of the Morrill Act, thus creating the A. & M. College which is now the University of Kentucky.

Other features of the convocation include musical selections by Almo Kiviniemi, University faculty member, and a trio composed of Jean Bolton, Ann English, and Jo Ann Range, students.

Broadcast Scheduled
As first event scheduled for Sunday will be a message to alumni and friends of the University to be broadcast through the facilities of Radio Station WHAS at 10:30 a.m.

The University Women's Glee Club, directed by Miss Mildred Lewis, will present a musicale at 4 p.m. Sunday in Memorial Hall. Following the musicale, which will be broadcast by WKLX, a reception and tea will be held at 5 p.m. in the Music Room of the Student Union Building. Students, faculty members, alumni, present and former trustees, city and state officials, and representatives of all campus organizations are expected to attend.

Film To Be Shown In SUB Uallroom

"Stanley and Livingstone," starring Spencer Tracy, Nancy Kelly, and Richard Greene, will be the third feature attraction in the series of movies sponsored this quarter by the activities committee of the Student Union Board.

The picture will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the SUB ballroom, according to Frances White, chairman. Admission is 20c.

Phi Eta Sigma Initiates 10

Ten men were initiated last week into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholarship honorary. Ryburn Wackley, president, has announced. They were Jack Bell, Gina Garli, Allison Caudill, Walter Cooper, Elms Foster, William Hays, Arthur Maddox, Joseph Schoepf, Sherman Warner, and John W. White.

Requirements for membership in the society are a 3.0 standing for one quarter, a 2.7 for two quarters, or a 2.5 average for three quarters during the freshman year.

Model Of Visual Aid On Display In Quad, Only One Of Type

A three-dimensional visual aid model to show the simultaneous effect of silicon and carbon on an iron alloy was recently constructed by Clifford Kennard, University pattern maker and foundry technician, for use as a reference tool for metallurgy classes.

The model, the only one of its type, was designed by Dr. A. S. Coffinberry, Los Alamos, New Mexico, formerly professor of physical metallurgy at the University, and was diagrammed by Haskell J. Ross, B.S. in metallurgical engineering, 1947.

Ten color combinations are used to assist in distinguishing the phases of the alloys. The model shows the alloys melting point, percentage of carbon and silicon, and the effect of the elements on the phases. When questioned about the model, P. L. Orrill, assistant professor of metallurgical engineering, said, "The model has elicited favorable comment from scores of visitors attracted by the ingenuity and the utility of the model. I would be glad to demonstrate the apparatus to anyone interested."

The model is on display in room 238, Engineering Quadrangle.

Dr. Donovan Plans Tour Of Germany

President H. L. Donovan will leave March 1 for a two-months stay in Germany where he will study and make recommendations for the rebuilding of the universities in Germany.

He will report to the United States Office of Military Government in Washington on March 1, and expects to leave for Germany by plane immediately.

Dr. Donovan was selected for the assignment by the Office of Military Government from among a number of outstanding educators.

Working directly under the Office of Military Government for Land Hesse, Dr. Donovan will visit several universities there and will advise concerning extension of facilities offered, training of university teachers, student activity programs, student government, student life, relationships between the universities and the public, student exchange with foreign countries, and other phases of higher education.

Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president of the University, will assume the president's duties during his absence. Dr. Donovan will go to Washington Feb. 26 and will spend three days working with a committee concerning agricultural extension services before reporting for duty on his new assignment. He will return May 1.

Dr. Donovan said that he would go first to Berlin after his arrival in Germany and then to Frankfurt am Main, where his headquarters will be located.

In 1936, Dr. Donovan toured through Germany, Russia, and Poland as a member of Dr. Sherwood Eddy's seminar, and studied the governments of those countries.

Neal Elected Vet President

Sidney Neal, Owensboro, a freshman in the College of Commerce, was elected president of the Veterans Club Monday. He is a member of Phi Kappa Alpha social fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity, and the Young Democratic Club.

Only one slate of candidates was entered for the eight offices in the club prior to the deadline, and since the club constitution prohibits by the club constitution, the election was merely a formality.

Other officers elected were Charles Boggs, executive vice president; Clayton Roland, public relations vice president; Elbert A. Check, business vice president; George S. Johnson, treasurer; Thomas Fraisher, recording secretary; and William P. Jones, corresponding secretary.

Chemistry Students To Visit Louisville

Some 20 chemistry students will get a first hand view of industrial chemistry processes when they visit three Louisville industries next Friday.

The trip, which is sponsored by the Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society, will include a tour of Seagram and Sons, the National Carbide Corporation, and Du Pont de Nemours and Company.

Dr. James A. Watson Jr., professor of chemistry, who is in charge of the tour, said that similar trips may be arranged in the future to give students a practical knowledge of chemical processes and equipment.

The new residence hall for men will have a lounge in the basement and a lounge-recreation room upstairs. There will also be a sandwich shop off the recreation room.

Seven Professors Named For Award

Seven University professors have been awarded the title of Distinguished Professor. The awards were approved by the Board of Trustees Saturday upon the recommendation of President H. L. Donovan.

Dr. Donovan pointed out that a number of well known universities have created the position "to reward a small group of persons who have distinguished themselves as scholars and teachers."

The trustees approved the awarding of the title to the following persons:

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the Department of History; Dr. Phillip R. Edwards, bacteriologist, Department of Animal Pathology, Experiment Station; Prof. Grant C. Knight, professor of English; Prof. James W. Martin, professor of economics and director of the Bureau of Business Research; Dr. Louis A. Pardue, professor of Physics; Dr. W. D. Valleau, professor of Plant Pathology, Department of Agronomy; and Dr. Amy Vandembosch, head of the Department of Political Science.

Dr. Donovan said the total number of Distinguished Professors in an institution the size of this University should never exceed twelve or fifteen at the most. He recommended that the number authorized at present be ten.

In recommending the title be established, he said: "To attain this rank one must demonstrate beyond any shadow of a doubt by his teaching, writing, and research that he is an individual possessing creative ability and scholarship. Those promoted to this rank are awarded not only the distinction which comes with the title but also salaries somewhat higher than the schedule paid full professors by the institution."

Knight
Prof. Knight, who came here in 1921, is author of a number of books including James Lane Allen and the Gentle Tradition, which was favorably reviewed by publications throughout the world. A native of Pennsylvania, he taught English at Gettysburg College before coming here. He served as an infantry corporal for 18 months during the first World War.

Martin
Prof. Martin, who came here in 1923 to head the Bureau of Business Research and serve as a professor of economics is known as an authority on taxation problems. He served as Commissioner of Revenue for Kentucky from 1936 to 1939 and is a former president of the Tax Research Foundation. Before coming here he was a professor of economics and chairman of the Research Committee at Emory University.

Pardue
Dr. Pardue, a native Kentuckian, was appointed an instructor here in 1924, received his bachelor and master degrees from the University and his doctorate from Yale. During the war he was employed by the government on the Manhattan Project which developed the atomic bomb.

Clark
Author of many books on southern history, Dr. Clark came here in 1931 and was named head of the Department of History in 1945. He is a native of Louisville, Miss., and received his Ph.D. degree from Duke University.

Vandembosch
Dr. Vandembosch, on leave to teach at Northwestern University, served as a member of the American Expeditionary Forces in the first World War and with the Office of Strategic Services during the last war. He came here in 1926 and was named head of the Department of Political Science in 1934. He has written a number of books on the peoples and politics of the Far East.

Athletic Books Good Next Quarter

All students must hold on to their ticket books for use next quarter, the athletic department announced this week.

Only new students will be issued new ticket books at the start of the next quarter, and remaining games will require the use of the old books.

Student Fined For Smoking In Frazee Hall

Fraud guilty of smoking in Frazee hall, John Clarkson, Arts and Sciences freshman from Charleston, W. Va., was fined the minimum of five dollars at a Student Government Association Judiciary Committee trial Tuesday.

Charges against Clarkson were brought by Dr. Thomas D. Clark as head of the history department, after the student was found smoking by J. F. Hopkins, history instructor.

Mr. Hopkins said that he asked Clarkson to put out his cigarette, but the student refused, and walked down to the first floor of Frazee Hall, smoking the cigarette.

Pleads Ignorance

Clarkson said that as a first-quarter student he was unfamiliar with SGA regulations, and that although he saw the "no smoking" signs he was unaware of any SGA penalties for an offense. He pointed out that smoking regulations were not enforced rigidly by the faculty.

Stating that "The last thing the faculty wants to do is to discriminate against students," Dr. Clark emphasized the danger of fire in non-resistant buildings such as Frazee.

Minimum Fine

Chairman Harry Miller announced the Judiciary Committee's verdict of guilty, with a recommendation of punishment by the minimum fine of five dollars "will be paid upon approval of the dean of the college and of the president of the University."

Committee members in addition to Miller, are Robert Hardin, Rosemary Dammitt, Jim Brockenhough, James W. Jones, and W. S. Ward, faculty adviser and ex-officio member.

Carpenter Named Commerce Dean

Dr. Cecil C. Carpenter, professor of economics, has been appointed dean of the College of Commerce effective July 1, when Dean Edward West will be given a change of assignment.

"At the end of this academic year, Dean Edward West, having reached the age of 70, will be given a change of work and a new assignment," President H. L. Donovan said. "Dean West has done a magnificent job as dean of the College of Commerce. He has built this college from a small one to one of the most important in the University. He has laid a splendid foundation for his successor."

A member of the staff since 1936, Dr. Carpenter is a native of Harrodsburg, and he holds degrees from the University and the University of Illinois. Dr. Carpenter joined the staff as an assistant professor, advancing to associate professor in 1937 and to professor in 1941. A former professor of economics at Marshall College, he served as District Price Executive of the OPA in Lexington from 1943 to 1945.

He is a member of the American Economic Association, the Kentucky Academy of Social Sciences, and the Southern Economic Association, and has written numerous articles for publications in the field of economics.

Dean West said he plans to write an economic history of Kentucky and a history of the teaching of economics and business administration after his retirement from active duty.

Dean of the College of Commerce since its organization in 1925, Dean West came here in 1918 as professor. (Continued on Page Three)

Conference Exhibits To Be Held At SUB

Exhibits for the fourth annual "Job Conference" set for Mar. 3 and 4, will be placed in the men's reading lounge of the Student Union Building Thursday, Mrs. Dorothy Evans, faculty advisor for the conference, has announced. Appointments for interviews with firm representatives may be made Mar. 1 and 2 there.

Six more companies and organizations have been added to the list of firms being represented, Mrs. Evans said. They are Kaufman-Straus, a Louisville department store; American Tobacco Company; YWCA; Girl Scouts; Equitable Life Assurance Society; and Gulf, Mobile, and Ohio Railroads, a source for hostess jobs. The list now totals 24.

Campus bulletin boards and letters which professors will read to their classes will announce conference features of specific interest.

Job opportunities will be offered at the conference for all types of majors, according to John Angellis, co-chairman of the event. All colleges can participate, he said, stressing the practical benefits afforded juniors and seniors.

The conference is sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary and leadership society for junior and senior men, and Morlar Board, senior women's honorary.

WSSF Drive Gets Started

The first organization report on contributions to World Student Service Fund came this week from Zeta Alpha with the statement from ZTA President Olie Hayes that their sorority has already pledged $40.00, with more to come.

Speakers for Operation University, the WSSF drive, are appearing at meetings of all major campus organizations to urge their full support of the student-to-student relief. To the fraternal group or housing unit making the highest per capita contribution will go a bronze plaque inscribed "UK World Student Service Fund, To (name of group) For Highest Contribution 1948."

Student Week March 1-6
Four of these plaques will be awarded during Student World Week, March 1-6, when final results of the entire campaign are announced at the basketball game to be played as a WSSF benefit by the WAA "Glamor-Cats." Date of the game has not been set. One plaque will go to a fraternity, others to outstanding sorority, women's residence unit and men's dorm. Harold Friedly, chairman of the drive, emphasized that tabulation of contributions will be based on per capita giving within the organization.

Tri-Delts Led Last Year
Last year Tri-Delts led all the groups with a contribution of $84; Jewell Hall led women's residences with a gift of $88.60, and Bradley Hall came first in men's residences with a total contribution of $46.10.

Charley Boggs, publicity chairman, announced that appeals will be made to faculty and students through campus and classroom solicitation.

At the weekly meeting of the All-Campus Committee last night, the discussion of the Special Project in Delhi, India, was sparked by statements of Jacob John, Indian student who is acquainted with the university situation there. John, member of the Operation University speakers committee, expressed his surprise at learning that the WSSF secretary in India is Miss Elizabeth Pothan, a friend and former teacher of his. He described conditions among university students in India and explained that they are worse now than at any time since he left India.

Girls To Give UK Tribute

Two numbers in tribute to the University will be sung by the Women's Glee Club at the Sunday Afternoon Musicale, which coincides with the commemoration of the University's founding 83 years ago.

The Founders Day numbers, which will conclude the musicale, are "Hall, Kentucky, Alma Mater," by Lampert, and "America, The Beautiful," by Ward-Piney.

Miss Mildred Lewis will direct the program, which is scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock.

The piano soloist of the glee club is Barbara Akers, and the accompanist is Adelle Gensamer Dailey, former University staff member. Jean Kessler will sing the part of Venus in the Venusburg scene. Other solo parts will be sung by Marion Stafford, Martha Lee Neff, Jo Ann Talley, and Jo Ann Range. Mary Ann Faulkner and Mary Carolyn Carver will play the violin obligato to Elgar's "The Snow."

The Women's Glee Club is composed of approximately 65 music majors and other young women interested in singing. It was first established on the campus in 1925 and has been under the direction of Miss Lewis since 1931.

Library Archivists Discover Note Written By Lincoln

A yellowed envelope bearing notations by Abraham Lincoln and secretary Edwin M. Stanton was found by archivists at the University library two days before Lincoln's birthday.

The note, dated March 18, 1863, and written in Lincoln's handwriting is on an envelope containing a letter sent to the president by Gov. Robinson and delivered by Edward S. Theobald, who was financial adviser for Kentucky. It requested the secretary of war to "please give Theobald as early an opportunity as possible for a hearing on his business."

Discovered with the envelope was a series of letters and documents by Mr. Theobald. The papers which were dated 1862-1863 were concerned with Kentucky's effort for support of state militia. They were found at the bottom of a large collection owned by William Lindsay, United States senator and state jurist. The library is now cataloging the collection.

During an interview, Theobald observed Lincoln's facial characteristics and that evening he wrote in a letter to his wife, "I did not at first see much likeness between Mr. Lincoln and his picture on the greenbacks, but after getting familiar with his face, I concluded that it was a very good likeness."

In the same letter, Theobald gave a description of his visit and introduction to the president. "In the first place, this morning in company with Mr. Joshua Speed of Louisville I took up the line of march for the White House. We arrived about 9 o'clock and entered the hall of reception. In a few moments the hall was crowded with applicants for audience with the president—all of whom, from major generals to corporals, were whispering and knocking with the door keepers in order to get their names registered before anybody else for admission into the president's presence—I promenade the hall for about an hour and a half and began to get very much bored waiting for his excellency to get through with his "warm rolls and soft boiled eggs when finally the usurper made his appearance and passed hastily through the hall into his office—in a little while Mr. Speed and I were invited into the august presence, to the great envy no doubt of the many anxious waiters for interviews—Mr. Speed introduced me in the important capacity of the Financial Agent of the State of Kentucky and old Abe poked out that big hand no less renowned for signing the proclamation of freedom than for splitting rails. . . . He is an unpolished man in his manners and his appearance haggard and rugged, but he is simple and unaffected in manner and kind and polite. . . ."

Greek Student Writes

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY:

I want to express my gratitude to you. Being a European, I have always thought that American students think only about themselves, their rich country, and their good social life. But when I came here and saw the interest that was displayed by the American students in world affairs, I realized that you understand the important role you are to play in this unceasing task of rebuilding civilization.

I want to thank you today on the part of all European students for the World Student Service Fund drive, which starts this week on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

I happen to have seen personally the results of WSSF in Greece and the enthusiasm with which American students undertook this task of helping their fellow students all over the globe. I think, therefore, that it is one of the most encouraging and consoling things that I have ever known to see the sympathy and interest shown by the American students in the distressed minds of European students.

Now that the new drive is starting, I, coming from those devastated countries, urge you to participate in it actively and contribute as much as possible. It is not the financial aid — the money you intend to give — that will save those students from intellectual starvation. It is the sympathy, the good feelings that accompany it, which will be the basis on which a sincere friendship and a mutual understanding will be founded.

We all know that you have given much already. We believe that you will continue to help us, because you escaped from fate's cruel revenge in this war.

You are actually investing these contributions to the huge, badly needed enterprise of peacemaking.

You, students of the University of Kentucky, who fought and suffered in the battlefields and in the factories for a great cause — to win this war and make it the last one in the history of civilization — would you like to see the cause ruined by mere negligence?

The creation of friendship by means of substantial help to those who will become the leaders of their countries is of utmost importance.

The purpose for which you fought will be perfectly completed if you continue your strife on another — a peaceful and friendly — plane.

Which of you would refuse to give in order to attain what has been not only the goal of years of sacrifice, expense, and pain, but the goal of humanity itself? A fool might refuse to contribute, but not you, American students, because you have realized that you have shouldered a historical responsibility: to conserve, control, and steer what today constitutes the culmination of the accumulation of precious human experience — namely, Western civilization — by means of reason.

Sincerely yours,
DEMETRIUS CORDAS

Record Number Plan For June Graduation

Filing applications for degrees by 1136 students assures the University of another record graduating class in June, the Registrar's Office announced Thursday.

The eighty-first annual commencement exercises are scheduled to be held on Friday night, June 4. University officials anticipate a graduating class of "between 900 and 1000." Inability of a certain percentage of candidates to earn sufficient credits and quality points will keep the class near these limits, officials said.

The existing record for a graduating class is 657 which was established last year.

The Spice Of Life

By Helen Dorr and Pat Quinn

With Valentine's Day following Friday the thirteenth and all the mid-quarters, everybody has been having a busy time.

On Friday the thirteenth, the Sig Eps dared fate by having their annual Masquerade ball. They say Jack Wayman was quite convincing as a tramp and Jane Clemmons as a Spanish girl. Anyway, they won the prizes.

The ADPis also held their Valentine dance that night and Bill Gutermuth and Suzanne Hannans were crowned king and queen.

All the parties went off without a "mess-hap" except that the Deltas held their formal at the house with water seeping into the basement.

Then on Saturday the Delta Zetas had open house and Jewell Hall held their annual tea dance. Guests chuckled over the girl who had two dates at the dance and was desperately trying to keep them apart.

But the high point of the party came when Bob Mutholland and Lucille Crawford announced their engagement. Lucille was the social chairman in charge of the dance.

If you want to hear an interesting angle, ask Frank Denton about the first date he had with Betty Sellers.

They also say that Owen Lewis is quite the man-about-town. Is it his personality or that bright new convertible that makes him so popular with the campus favorites?

Even though one of the authors of this column has been changed, we still swipe poems from various sources. Here's the latest:

A few short years ago,
When shady jokes were told,
A co-ed blushed a fiery red
And thought the man "most bold."
And now upon the campus,
There are so few who frown,

When she dashes for a pencil,
To copy the joke down.

Question of the week: "Who's the girl who's been trying to get a date with Hey Browning? Also, why doesn't Jim Stiles break down and ask Jeanne Wilson for a date?"

It seems that Frances Jones has forsaken the Deltas for the Sigma Nu's Tommy Mattingly. Those in the know predict a pinning here.

Most expected pinning this week: Jimmy Mokas to Maria Sturgis. He's playing it smart by pinning her before she comes her next quarter and meets the pack of wolves.

Also pinned this week were Marion Wright and Wayland Givens who is now at Purdue. Other pinnings: Wick Wood and Nerec Hatcher; Benny Anne Blessing to Arthur Scott; Martha Quillen and Ralph Sullivan; Hazel Jones to David Greene, at Purdue; Betty Sunley

Good Sportsmanship

University of Kentucky athletic teams are known far and wide, not only for their competitive ability but also for their qualities of good sportsmanship.

Good sportsmanship on the part of the players should certainly be reinforced by the same sort of conduct from the supporting members of the student body.

Unfortunately, this doesn't seem to be the case. The conduct on the part of some of the students at the Alabama basketball game Monday night was in very bad taste.

Occasional booing and hissing of the referee's decisions seems to have become accepted throughout the nation as the favorite spectator sport. Any kind of catcalling is undesirable, but excessive booing is completely out of place at any athletic event.

Yelling and whistling while members of the opposing team are attempting to shoot free throws is inexcusable. Not only is it a technical foul for an audience to distract a player while he is shooting a foul but it is conduct unworthy of college men and women.

The epitome of poor sportsmanship is the yelling of "shoot, shoot," when a member of the Kentucky squad gets the ball. If you're a better ball-handler or marksman than the man at whom you're yelling, why aren't you on the squad — swishing them through the net?

and Lewis Blanchi, from the University of Cincinnati. Tony Rotunno is seeing a lot of Wanda Spears again.

It seems that Roy Roger's horse, Trigger, has been on the quiz programs quite a lot lately!

Evidently Jim Line is finding time between his studies and his basketball for Martha Harmon. They made up on Valentine's Day.

Lois Brannon and the Patt Hall formal seem to have made quite an impression on Jack Barrowman.

Constant Twosomes: Sara Mae Greene and Lewis Hammett; Eleanor Gray and Jack White; Mary Frank Ward and Gus Clarke.

Excuse of the week: But somebody had to represent the fraternity. Overheard conversation:

Boy: I have an embarrassing question to ask you.
Girl: What is it, if it isn't too embarrassing?

Boy: When aren't you doing anything? I'd like to have a date with you.

P.S. He got the date.

There's a good reason why WESTERN ELECTRIC is in this family circle

Western Electric is a member of the Bell System family circle for exactly the same reason that your local Bell Telephone company is a member — to assure the close teamwork that is essential for efficient, economical, nation-wide telephone service for you.

As the supply member of the family, Western Electric makes telephone equipment, buys all kinds of supplies, keeps these things in stock at 29 distributing houses for delivery to the telephone companies, and installs central office equipment.

This unified service of supply results in many economies to the Bell Telephone companies and, in turn, to you who use the telephone.

Since 1882, Western Electric has been a member of the Bell Telephone family — helping to make your service the world's best at the lowest possible cost.

Spring Grid Practice Called For '48 Season

By O. C. Halyard

Coch Paul "Bear" Bryant and his staff began the long search this week for 15 replacement parts necessary to have the Kentucky grid machine in running order by this fall. In addition to those urgently needed replacement parts, a number of spare parts are also needed to keep any grid machine running smoothly these days.

Bryant lost 15 lettermen by graduation or through scholastic difficulties. Of these, 14 were members of the first two teams last year. This leaves the head coach with only eight parts, two of which won't be ready for the spring drills. Wah Jones is still pounding the hardwood for the cagers, and Harry Uliniski is recovering from a knee operation, thus both men will be kept inside.

The coaching staff hopes to wind up the Spring session by April 3 in order to give the boys a chance to participate in the spring sports. The drills will be concluded with the annual Blue-White game sponsored by the "K" Club. There will be no summer practice, and Bryant said he wanted the boys to get away from school completely so that when September 1 rolled around and fall practice began, they would all be anxious to go.

He said he knew the staff would find plenty of youth on the practice field, but what they were going to look for was enthusiasm. "We will spend all our time working with those who want to play," the youthful mentor added. "If we can find 20 to 25 boys who want to play football, we'll have a team next fall that'll be interesting to watch in action, because although they may not win a lot they'll give them all a tough fight for it," the Bear said smiling.

Practice Defense

In outlining his plans for spring practice Bryant said they would work on defense a lot, because they didn't get the ball enough last season. And without the ball, he reminded you, you can't score.

He also plans a lot of work on open field tackling, which is part of defense, because the tackling last season cost the team some important touchdowns—two of them against Tennessee.

The passing attack will be on the schedule daily. Bryant remarked that was one of the Wildcats' weakest threats last season and that he expected George Blanda would throw several hundred thousand passes between now and game time September 25.

Barnett Back

Besides most of last season's squad turning out for practice, the Wildcats' ranks were bolstered by the return of Jim "Turkeyfoot" Barnett, a sophomore fullback from Huntington, West Virginia, who played his freshman year here in the fall of 1945 before going in the Navy. Another new face on the field was Jim McConaughy, a freshman from New Orleans who may run at one of the flank positions.

University I-M Champ To Be Chosen Saturday

By Allen Terhune

It's bound to rain one of these days and when those drops touch good old Mother Earth they won't be any closer than the finals of the Intramural basketball tournament, which is scheduled to be held as a preliminary tilt to the Kentucky-Georgia Tech cage battle tomorrow night at alumni gym.

Game time for the scrap, which will decide the University Intramural net champion, has been set at 6:15, according to Intramural Director Bill McCubbin.

Regular elimination tournaments for the independent and fraternity squads ended Thursday evening with a champion decided from each of the two groups.

This afternoon starting at 4 o'clock the "final" final tournament is slated to pick the two teams who will battle for the UK championship tomorrow night.

Plans call for the winner of the fraternity meet to play the runner-up independent quintet at 4 o'clock, and the winner of the independent affair to compete with the runner-up fraternity team at 5 o'clock.

These two winners will then wait for Saturday night at which time they will fight things out for the trophy.

Results of the first round independent bracket tell us that Kinross Hall defeated Rose Street Baracks, then whipped the Dragons in the second round. The Dragons had previously beaten the Jumpers in the first round.

Jewell Hall erased the Crumbs in the second round thereby pitting themselves against Kinross Hall in the upper bracket.

In the lower bracket of the independent tournament, the Atomics tripped Bradley Hall in the first round, only to bow before the power of Patt Hall in the second round. Patt having eliminated the Turtles in the first round.

The "K" Club crashed through the Hoodlums in the second round to pair themselves with Patt Hall in the semi-finals.

On the fraternity side of the tournament it is found that the Phi Deltas ousted the KAs in the first round while Delta Chi nosed out the ATOS. Then in the second round the Phi Deltas were awarded a decision over the Delta Chi aggregation although the DC's won by a 23-22 score. Bill McCubbin explains that this action took place after one of the Delta Chi players was declared ineligible.

Sigma Chi defeated the Phi Taus in the second round putting them in the semi-finals against the Phi Deltas. Lambda Chi Alpha outscored the PKAs in the first round only to lose to the Kappa Sigs in the second round, who had defeated the PSK outfit in the first round.

The SAE's whipped the Sig Eps in the second round, thereby pitting serves in the semi-finals against the Kappa Sigs in the lower bracket.

Bowling

Bowling began this week at the Colonial Bowling Lanes with 25 teams entered in the event, the intramural office reports.

There are 18 teams in the "A" division of the meet and seven groups in the "B" division. It was pointed out that all the teams in the A division and that all organizations who had entered two teams had placed their best bowlers in the A group and their second team in the B division.

The badminton and wrestling deadlines have been set for Feb. 30. The badminton tournament will get underway Feb. 23 while the men entered in wrestling must get into shape and be ready for the meet that begins March 8.

Vols, Tide Fall To Cats Before Student Crowds

By Kent Hollingsworth

All American Ralph Beard ordered by 3300 shrieking fans, with four seconds left in the first half of the Tennessee game, took the throw in from Kenny Rollins, two champs on his chewing gum and heaved the ball 52½ feet to break the bottom out of the net and a ten-year-old longest distance record, set by Red Hagen.

Wah Jones played brilliant ball as the Wildcats purred to an easy 69-42 victory over the Vols. Jones was taken out after racking up 12 of Kentucky's first 19 points, and replaced by Dale Barnstable, Beard, Holland, and Barnstable all tied for second place high scoring honors with nine each.

High for Tennessee were the two guards, Hugh Jones with six fouls and two field goals, and Carl Montgomery, who each racked up ten points.

Dale Powell, Beard's teammate at Louisville's Male High, played an outstanding game for Tennessee on defensive rebounds, and scored three points.

Tide Stemmed

Cliff Barker, who can do more with a basketball than most people could with a million dollars, did it against Alabama. Flinging the ball by his right ear, behind his back, and with elusive pivoting, he shoved through 14 points to be the outstanding player as the Wildcats easily won over the Crimson Tide, 63-33.

The Capstone five, who stress ball handling and control, for low scoring wins, had their strategy thwarted by ball-hawking Ralph Beard and Cliff Barker, who time and again broke up passes and scored quick field goals.

Big Al Groza and Wah Jones scored ten and nine points respectively and Joe Holland played his usual excellent rebounding game.

Even ticket books are good for tonight's game with Vanderbilt, and tomorrow's game with Georgia Tech will be, "odd".

Students Protest Lack Of Seats For Cage Games

Saturday night's contest with Tennessee certainly managed to stir up a lot of controversy about that old bug-a-boo, the seating situation. The annual home court Cat-Vol scrap was to be played this year before the holders of even number ticket books.

However, upon arrival at the gym, many of the No. 18 dual holders found the doors closed. Almost immediately the rumor spread around that odd-number coupons had been accepted for admission thus making it necessary to refuse a number of allegedly valid tickets.

Since then we have been approached by several protesting students; there also have been a half dozen or so objections telephoned to the Kernel office, and one justly named student, Bertram Whisler, even wrote the editor a letter.

As for Bert and any others who might have wondered about the deal, and in order to satisfy our own curiosity, we tried to contact Athletic Director, B. A. Shively about the matter. But he is out of town at the present on business. However, we did talk with Mr. Dickerson, ticket manager, and he said as far as he knows no orders were given to admit odd-books. A hurried check of the coupons collected Saturday night, Mr. Dickerson said, showed only a couple of the odd-numbered tickets—apparently taken by mistake in the rush.

Now, the Athletic Department devised this system of dividing the home games between students and admitting the townspeople in an effort to furnish opportunities for 175 students to see their team—the nation's greatest—in action. A minimum of home games was scheduled this season, because when the schedule was made it was hoped that the new gymnasium would be finished for the 1948-49 season, and we waited a large home schedule then.

However, it is apparent now that nothing short of a Biblical miracle will deliver the new floor by next season, and we must suffer with the inadequate seating facilities of Alumni Gym for another year.

It just figures out though, that with over 3700 of each type of student book issued, and seats for only 3300, someone is going to be left outside. Of course there are always several hundred persons who care nothing about basketball and the Wildcats and don't go to the games. But when a good percentage of them sell their tickets for the big games, the situation is still just as crowded.

Of course we don't say the crowded condition is right, but we have no immediate solution unless it would be a three-way division of the games for next season among the large student body, with a few hundred seats sold to townspeople to insure a full house. With the large home schedule that should be forthcoming, this might be our answer.

But for the present we can only promise to check with Mr. Shively when he returns, and remind you that the early bird gets the worm. Better luck tonight, Bert, and thanks for showing enough school interest to write and inquire.

The Kernel sports staff engaged the sports staff of Transylvania's Crimson Rambler in J. B. Faulconer's Sports Quiz over WLAP last night. But we all agree that we owe our slim 353 to 340 victory to Tom Diskin who scored a perfect 150 on his five questions. Top man for Trans was Art Moss with 110 points.

Students interested in trying out for the University tennis team are urged to report to Coach Ray Durham at room 104 in the SUB, Wednesday, February 25 at 7 p.m. The meeting will be purely for organizational purposes.

Durham stated that practice would begin around March 1 in the Women's gym.

Temple Plays Cats In Louisville Armory

On Tuesday, the Wildcats travel to Louisville for a return game with the Temple Owls, who have been called the East's outstanding "giant killer" when it comes to knocking off the better basketball teams.

It was Temple that upset Kentucky, 60-59, in Philadelphia on Dec. 20 to give the Ruppens their first defeat of the season. Since that date they have beaten several more prominent cage teams, including North Carolina, LaSalle (their initial loss of the season), St. John's, Syracuse and Duke.

Early in the campaign, the Owls lost to undefeated NYU, 64-41, but two weeks ago, Temple, in a return game, scared the daylight out of the New York City quintet, losing 55-54 in a hard-fought contest. It was in this game that Temple's Nelson Bobb stole the ball in the final seconds of play and scored only to have the basket nullified because of a foul committed by Ray Lump of NYU on him as he took the throw but missed it and a chance to tie up the game.

Kentucky will be slightly favored to whip the Owls in Louisville because of its fine record for this season (23-2) and the fact that the Cats will be playing on a familiar court—the Louisville armory. A capacity crowd of 7500 persons is expected to witness the contest.

Pacing the Temple team is 5'10" Eddie Lerner, who scored five goals with 12 free throws for a total of 22 points against the Big Blue last December. Nelson Bobb is another star performer along with Ken Borsavage, the Owl center.

Alex Groza was high-point man for UK in that stunning 60-59 upset by Temple, scoring 16 tallies; Jim Lane had 12; Ken Rollins 11, and Ralph Beard, who was recovering from his leg injury of the UC game, shot in seven markers in the 16 minutes that he played.

The Cats have been looking forward to meeting Temple again and are hoping to give the Owls, the UK version of "Treatment S" on Tuesday.

Vandy, Georgia Tech Wind-Up 1947-48 Wildcat Home Schedule

by Tom Diskin

Kentucky's wiry Wildcats, who seemingly are invincible on their home court, will be seeking their 24th and 25th wins of the season tonight, when they meet Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech furnishing the opposition for the final contest of the season to be played in Alumni gym.

By taking both of these home games, Kentucky's Zip Kids can boost their string of consecutive conquests in their own lair to 64 games—the best record of any basketball team in the nation in this respect. Their last defeat in Alumni gym was over five years ago when Ohio State upset the UK Cats, 45-40, in January, 1943.

After the games with Vandy and Georgia Tech, Kentucky will have only two encounters left in the regular season schedule—Temple, on Tuesday, Feb. 24, in Louisville and Xavier on Saturday night, Feb. 28, in Cincinnati. Then comes the SEC tournament in Louisville the following week.

Al Groza tops UK scorers. The Cats' 79-inch center, Al Groza, is the leading scorer for the team as the campaign nears its end. The Man Mountain from Martins Ferry, Ohio, has thrown in 303 points in the 25 games this year, for an average of 12.3 tallies per contest.

Ralph Beard is second with 286 markers in 24 skirmishes—one less than Groza—for a game average of 11.9. Next in order are Jim Lane, with 178 in 24 contests; Wah Jones, 173-22; Captain Ken Rollins, 169-25; Cliff Barker, 147-24; Dale Barnstable, 125-24; and Joe Holland, 101-24.

Billy Joe Adcock is Vandy's Best Vanderbilt's Commodores, with an all-time record against Kentucky of nine wins and 37 losses in the "round-ball" game, is expected to be given a good going over tonight at 8 p.m. when they face the Kentucky quintet, who hold little respect for the Commodores' high rank.

In their last meeting, on Feb. 9th in Nashville, the Fayette county fellows, hitting over 35 per cent of their shots, sank the Tennessee sailors, 82-51, as Beard scored 19 and Groza 17 to pace the fast-moving Kenuckians.

Vandy's top star, Billy Joe Adcock, slipped through the UK defense for 16 markers in that game, while Forward Blade Parks tallied 10 points. Center Pete Robinson, 6'4" Nashvillian, garnered eight as did Mike Craig, speedy guard.

Adcock, who is one of the conference's leading scorers, is a 19-year-old sophomore who recently broke Vandy's all-time individual scoring record for one season. He has been held to less than 10 points only once this season (at Tuscaloosa, when the Tide stopped him with eight) and has exceeded the twenty-point mark five times already this campaign. Adcock has been averaging nearly 18 tallies per contest—the best in the SEC. He plays at the forward position.

The other starting forward will probably be Blade Parks, a 6'2", 155-pound sophomore from Nashville's Hillsboro High.

In the pivot position, lanky Pete Robinson will start, with Dick Williams, a 6'7" freshman from Marietta, Ohio, as the No. 2 center on the squad.

The two top guards are Mike Craig, a 6'1" sophomore from Nashville's West High and Bobby McGuire, a 6' freshman from Hazard, Ky.

McGuire, who scored four points against the Wildcats, is said to be improving rapidly and plays a hard, fast game, outdancing the squad's Ed Tate, a 6'2" forward from player before he graduates.

Last month, these five played the entire game against Kentucky and did right well until tiring late in the contest. The final score was UK 71, Tech 56, but at halftime the Cats had only a seven-point lead, 38-31. Guard Colin Anderson took high scoring honors for both teams with 19 markers; Dold had 14; Nolan pushed in 12; Keener 7; and Sermerheim had four.

Kentucky's all-time record against the Yellow Jackets of Atlanta is 24 wins as against four setbacks—the last victory for Tech being in February, 1940, when they defeated the Cats, 44-39. Incidentally, the best UK loss to Vanderbilt also occurred early in 1940, the Commodores winning, 40-32.

TIPS ON TOGS

by Link

AFRAID — To mention the magic word "SPRING" cause I'm afraid it will start showing again! But the wise head will start looking around now to see what is being offered for the Easter Egg and Tulp Time season. Sport coats will be a big item—mostly soft pastel colors. Here are a few of the colors we received today—soft blue and grey in a plaid, light tan with yellow blocking, pale grey herring bone effect mauve. Some are two button and some three button with the popular vent. Be glad to show them to you—

T ZONE — This is not a cigarette ad, nor am I speaking of the nasal passage. I'm tipping you off about the good looking "T Shirts." I have in beige, pearl grey, and maroon made and styled by "Clisco" and sell for $2.00—well worth the shekies!

FOUR OF A KIND — But of a different hue! Which means, when translated, keen looking shirts with wide slot collars and French cuffs. Again pastel shades of blue, tan, and the ever popular white are in lead.

OMITTED — "My Opinion" on the well garbed guy is being omitted this week due to the fact that next week, in conjunction with that feature, another feature is being announced. Don't miss this announcement—it should be of interest!

So long for now,
